SITE SAFETY

We ensure site safety on all projects. For larger projects, general contractors must have a health and safety program, and sub-trades are required to follow safety protocols, including having policies and wearing appropriate Personal Protective Equipment.
For smaller jobs, our installers are trained to be aware of conditions behind walls, floors, and ceilings to prevent damage to existing electrical or plumbing systems. Additionally, working at heights certification is mandatory in many regions and is an integral part of the Shopfit Process.
See more on Site Safety on our Website.
